GREEN MOUNTAIN PROGRESS

Ever since 1796 when a country school teacher named Justin Morgan brought a compact bay stud colt to its Green Mountains, the state of Vermont has been famous as horse country. This reputation continues and deservedly so. Its strips of fertile valley still raise fine horses—Morgans, Arabians and other breeds. Uninvaded by automobiles are its net works of steep and winding roads leading to the grazing farms, cleared when the hooves of merino sheep brought gold to these hills, but now again covered with hickory, ash and sugar maple. Still standing are the houses, Inns and stables built for the entertainment and shelter of riders and their horses.

Some 35 years ago a group of horsemen in Windsor County, realizing its exceptional resources, founded the Green Mountain Horse Association with headquarters at South Woodstock. Those were the days of 300 mile endurance rides sponsored by the U. S. Cavalry. The new association developed a modified version for civilians—the 100 mile trail ride, which became the prototype for similar competitions since instituted in other parts of the country. To this was added the 50 mile pleasure ride, the autumn foliage ride and other less formal rides, taking advantage of the good footing, the cool climate and the beauties of the hills and valleys.

One of the characteristics of American life is the demand for progress and improvement. Most riders consequently demand that horse sports provide not only pleasure, but also increasing knowledge and proficiency in the various branches of horsemanship. The pleasant pastime of trail riding also teaches conditioning and care of the horse, but not much else. In recent years, therefore, the Green Mountain Horse Association under the presidency of Dr. Earle Johnson, has enlarged its program so as to include the most rapidly developing activities of the current Equestrian world.

In 1957 under the leadership of Gen. J. Tupper Cole it instituted a three week center for Combined Training, the program leading up to the Three Day Event, or Complete Test of the Olympic Games. In subsequent years the center, with a preceding conditioning week added, has been headed by H. S. Treviranus, Technical Advisor for Combined Training to the U. S. Equestrian Team, Inc., who now holds a similar position with the U. S.

Combined Training Association.

Since the basic program of the U. S. Pony Clubs, Inc. is also based on Combined Training the next step was the founding of a local club, The Upper Valley Pony Club, which has prospered mightily under the leadership of its District Commissioner, Mrs. Gusta Giddings, and holds a Ten Day Horsemanship Clinic which each summer is filled to capacity by children from this and other pony clubs.

Its success has given rise to a demand for instruction at the adult level, so that earlier this summer an additional horsemanship clinic was held under Hans Van Schaik, a former instructor at the Combined Training Center.

Through these programs The Green Mountain Horse Association has made South Woodstock a Mecca for horsemen at all levels of proficiency. Its example can and should be followed in many other sections of this country.

Letters.....

Thanks

Dear Sir:

Would it be possible for you to print this letter so we might say a very big and heartfelt thank you to the kind and understanding people who rode in back of our trailer as we left the Lakeville, Conn., Horse Show on Friday night, July 15th.

We know you are familiar with horses because you kept in back of us at a safe but close distance. You kept your lights on low beam and you stayed in the middle of the road whenever necessary to ward off anyone who might be foolish enough to risk all our lives by trying to pass on the narrow, winding road. When our son found it necessary to blanket the horses, you immediately realized that he needed light and you obligingly put your brights on and he was able to do it quickly and easily. You immediately dimmed your lights again when the job was finished.

It is impossible for us to say how much your kindness meant to us. We were tired and a long way from home, with a 3-hour drive ahead of us. We couldn't have asked for a better "Godspeed".

Thank you and please do introduce yourselves to us if we should ever meet again at a show. You know our trailer.

Sincerely,

Frank and Doris Fee

Book Review - Sort Of

Raleigh Burroughs

The first time I ever banged a golf ball around a course I won a tournament, beating a gent named Furgol, one named Corcoran and a couple named Eddie Blind and Joe Cascarella.

Recognizing that these advanced practitioners of cross-country croquet might be depressed by being whipped by a virtual unknown, I pointed out that you never know what will come of it when a natural athlete tries his hand at a new game.

In chorus (and in the parlance of the Turf) they responded, "Weight levels 'em all."

It was a handicap affair and (also in racing's argot) I had "got in with a feather." There are people who believe I never will beat Furgol, Corcoran, Cascarella or Blind at even weights, and the four gentlemen mentioned are in the forefront among subscribers to this doctrine. They will bet money, and there will be no takers.

When a fellow - even a natural athlete - steps out of his medium he should have something going for him besides aptitude. He needs practice and experience - years of both.

Came Out Swinging

That's why "Patients and Ponies" is a remarkable book. It was written by Dr. M. Murray Nierman whose main racket is alleviating poxes, pimples and pruritus of the human hide.

Dr. Nierman steps up and takes his cut at humorous writing just like he thinks he is Frank Sullivan, Clarence Day or Stephen Leacock. What he writes is funny and not every humorist can make this claim.

Some months ago, Dr. Nierman wrote a number of columns for the New York MORNING TELEGRAPH. They were a smash hit, and had people laughing all over the civilized world, i.e., wherever the RACING FORM and TELEGRAPH are read.

At the beginning of his book, Dr. Nierman has a paragraph which says "Grateful acknowledgement is made to the MORNING TELEGRAPH and DAILY RACING FORM for some of the material in this volume," so even if you didn't catch him in the racing dailies you know he appeared there.

Everything Covered

The book has a dedication, a preface and an introduction by Red Smith in the front, and a thumbnail sketch "About the Author" on the last printed page.

The acne eradicator begins by telling how his barber, Lou, talked him into one-third of an uncle to Native Dancer and a tenuous relationship to Mr. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt for $1,166.66 (one-third of $3,500). Woody, a steel worker held the third third.

The naming of the colt was accomplished in a manner which suggested that if any of the three partners was skinned in the transaction, it wouldn't be the Doc.

Rejecting appellations invented by his confreres, (who vetoed "Skin Doctor") the physician put over "Dermatologist."

"What means Dermatologist?" partner Looie the barber had asked, and Doc Nierman was ready with the answer.

New Diety Coming Up

"Dermatologist was the Greek God of lightning," he explained.

"I was ready to gamble," Doctor Nierman went on, "that Lou the barber never examined the American College Dictionary or read Greek mythology, and the definition of the word Dermatologist would never be found in the barber's total library: the scratch sheet and the barber's manual."

"Patients and Ponies" is a book of 173 pages and there is a good solid chunk of entertainment on every one.

Random House brought it out and if you've got $3.50 you can own a copy.

It isn't my idea to write a book review of "Patients and Ponies," I just want to tout you on a good thing.

"My Nun Story" is not exactly a typical chapter (no chapter is precisely typical) but the final paragraphs will convince you that here's something worth reading. Maybe you'd better wait until the weather cools a bit. No use breaking out in a heat rash, laughing, and having to take your business to a rival skin doctor.

Anyway, in "My Nun Story," Dr. Nierman tells how he prevailed upon three of his patients, nuns, to get a prayer going for him when he ran his horse Gallant Runner. The horse won and paid $36.00.

The next time they visited his office the sisters came "with orders from the Sister Superior to return with the following information: did God answer their prayers? And without fail, to find out for what blessed miracle they were praying. I explained," says Doctor Nierman, "that the first question could be answered with a heavenly amen, but would they excuse my not answering the second question. They made it clear that they could not return to Sister Superior without the reason for the special prayer. I broke down and confessed, related the whole story, including the 17-to-1 odds, and waited to be struck dead by the wrath of the Lord.

Shocked, But Amused

"The sisters sat stunned - and then the most welcome smiles and giggles broke forth; they displayed a sense of humor that was heaven-sent. They admitted that it might have been wrong, but it was 'cute'."

Suddenly the Doc realized, "Here I had something better than amphetamine, and no needle, no urinalysis. Would I dare ask again? I would."

Gallant Runner won again - at 10 to 1.

Reveling in success, the horse-owning integument-repairer asked for a third go-round. There was a qualification this time: the Monsignor ruled out praying for a horse to win. He was willing to allow the first two victories to stand, but the weight of canonical supplication would not

Saratoga

Seven 2-year-olds were on hand for the 48th running of the Sanford Stakes at Saratoga on the opening day of the season, Mon., Aug. 1. A purse of $25,000 added went with the six furlongs fixture.

Patrice Jacobs' Hail to Reason took command before reaching the stretch and went on to win the easiest kind of victory, finishing six lengths in front of L. P. Sasso's Busher's Beauty. Six and one half lengths further back was Claiborne Farm's Apple which nosed out Garwol, for show money. The winner broke the beam in 1.11 for six furlongs.

Hail to Reason is a brown colt, by *Turn-to out of Nothirchance, by Blue Swords, bred by the Bieber - Jacobs Stables. Bobby Ussery was in the irons and Hirsch Jacobs trained the winner. It was Hail to Reason's fourth stakes triumph and netted $23,157.50.

The Test (Wed., Aug. 3)

Saratoga's 36th running of The Test Stakes drew 23 starters and was run in two divisions. The allowance conditions requested the 3-year-old fillies to dash seven furlongs for a purse of $18,750 added for each division.

In the first division J. M. Roebing's *Be Cautious nosed out Cain Hoy Stable's Make Sail. E. Seinfeld's Clear Road was four lengths to the rear of Make Sail for show money. Another four lengths of daylight showed between the third and fourth horse, Campanas Stable's Repetitious. The winner's time was 1.24 for the 7 furlongs.

*Be Cautious is a grey filly, by Grey Sovereign-Ibex, by Chamossaire, bred by J. C. V. Miller, (Eng.) Jockey Bobby Ussery, who is on a hot streak with stakes horses, rode the winner for trainer J. A. Nerud. Their efforts netted $14,617.50.

The second division was taken by K. W.

Thornhill's Brave Pilot, which was ridden out to come in three and one-half lengths before the place horse, Charfran Stable's Frimanaha. Mrs. B. S. Wright, Jr.'s Improve was third and C. V. Whitney's Refute, fourth. The clockers timed the winner in 1.23 4/5.

Brave Pilot is a brown filly by Jet Pilot-Narrative, by War Relic, bred by Wheatley Stables. H. Woodhouse rode the filly to give trainer J. Rigione the first stakes victory of his career. He started training in 1949, after putting in a stint as an assistant starter. The net was $14,780 and was very gratifying, as Brave Pilot was claimed in May from Mrs. H. C. Phipps for $10,000.

The Whitney (Sat., Aug. 6)

Twelve 4-year-olds and upwards left the starting gate in Saratoga's 33rd running of The Whitney, a $50,000 added, one and one-eighth miles event. Mrs. Mable C. Scholtz's homebred Warhead, got a three-quarters length decision over the favorite, Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Talent Show, who was carrying 123 pounds and spotting twelve to the winner. E. Dolce's Manassa Mauler crossed the wire for show money and G. Ring's *Don Poggio was fourth. The time for the winner was 1.51 for the 1 1/8 miles.

Warhead is a 5-year-old bay horse by Battle Morn-Headfirst, by Eurasian or Head Play. K. E. Jensen was the trainer and M. Sorrentino, the jockey. Warhead's effort fetched $37,750.

Monmouth Park

The 23rd running of The Choice Stakes flushed out eight 3-year-olds at Monmouth Park on Wed., Aug. 3. The one and one-sixteenth miles allowance stakes offered a purse of $50,000 added.

Jockey W. Hartack rode Bohemia Stable's Kelso to a seven lengths score over L. L. Haggin 2nd's Careless John. R. N. Webster's Count Amber came in third and E. Seinfeld's Don Rickles, fourth. The clockers caught the winner in 1.41 1/5 for the 1 1/16 miles, just one-fifth of a second over the track mark. At the Aqueduct meeting Kelso chalked up the fastest mile ever put in the record books in New York (1.34 1/5, July 16).

Kelso is a dark bay or brown gelding by Your Host-Maid of Flight, by Count Fleet, bred by Mrs. R. C. duPont (Bohemia Stable). C. H. Hanford saddled the winner for his third victory in four starts this year. Kelso collected $36,320 for his first stakes effort. He was lightly campaigned as a two-year-old, starting three times, winning one, and finishing second twice.

The Sapling (Sat., Aug. 6)

Two-year-old colts, geldings and fillies were plentiful at Monmouth Park where the 26th running of the $50,000 added Sapling drew eighteen starters, for a six furlongs run. Patrice Jacob's favored Hail to Reason made it his fifth stakes victory of the year by defeating the long shot He's a Pistol, owned by J. G. Brown, by a half length, overtaking him in the stretch run. The track was fast and the winner ran the six furlongs in 1.10 2/5.

Hail to Reason is a brown colt, by *Turn-to-Nothirchance, by Blue Swords, bred by the Bieber-Jacobs Stable. Jockey Bobby Ussery rode the colt for trainer Hirsch Jacobs. The net for this one was $80,125 and gives Hail to Reason $170,042 for his fifteen starts, seven victories, two seconds, and two thirds. Jockey Ussery rode the winner in five of his triumphs.

Arlington Park

Three-year-old fillies were in the spotlight at Arlington Park, on Wed., Aug. 3, and eleven of them showed up for the 19th running of the Cleopatra Handicap. The stakes had a $25,000 added purse and required a run of one mile.

F. W. Hooper's homebred Dotty Kirsten was a one and one-quarter length winner over S. D. Hinkle's Willow Dare. Hasty House Farm's Prim Flower finished in the show position, and J. W. Burton's Gay Bandit made it for fourth. The winning time was 1.41 over a muddy track.

Dotty Kirsten is a bay filly by Count Fleet out of Delphis, by *Heliopolis, trained by C. R. Parke. Jockey B. Baeza was in the saddle. The filly collected $16,850 net for her connections.

Laurance Armour Handicap

The sixth running of The Laurance Armour Handicap, at Arlington, on Saturday, Aug. 6, fielded six starters, 3 & up. A handicap stakes, it was worth a $50,000 added purse, for the one and one-eighth miles test.

THE CADILLAC "V" AND CREST interpreted in Gold and Diamonds BY C. D. PEACOCK

Unrivalled for enduring worth!

It is no secret, to be sure, that Cadillac stands alone in the brilliance of its styling . . . and the graciousness of its interiors . . . and the excellence of its performance. But there is another, less apparent measurement of Cadillac greatness that is equally real and equally rewarding: its unrivalled resale value. Year after year, Cadillac continues to realize for its owners a higher return on their original investments than any other motor car built in the land. And this is, we believe, the final compliment to Cadillac's leadership in craftsmanship and design. We hope you will visit your dealer soon—and let him explain why the move to Cadillac is as logical as it is tempting! The car and keys await your call.

Saratoga Steeplechasing

John E. Cooper

John M. Schiff's *Muguet 2nd, looking fresh and fit, and carrying a bit more flesh than was the case in June, outran and outjumped his competition in the $15,000 added Beverwyck Steeplechase Handicap to win by five lengths. Sanford Stud Farm's 1959 Grand National winner, Sun Dog, was a good second, followed by Basil Bee, Benguala and *Narcissus 2nd in that order.

61st Running Beverwyck 'Chase

The sixty first running of this classic infield test drew a field of seven and was an eventful and exciting contest from start to finish. George Cassidy did a top job in getting the seven off to a perfect start, including the often tardy *Doural, which broke from the inside post position. Racing for the first jump, *Doural drifted out slightly, forcing Albert Foot on Benguala in number two post, to take back off the first flight inside the wings. Perhaps, because of this the Montpelier fencer pecked, and on landing almost went on his nose causing Foot to lose his irons. *Chufquen, on the extreme outside of the field, and all by himself, was not as lucky. He failed to clear the jump and fell with Evan Jackson. Meanwhile, his stablemate, June McKnight's *Narcissus 2nd (138 lbs.), with Paddy Smithwick in the saddle, went to the front, and while jumping out at his fences, set a fast pace. Settling into his accustomed position on the inside, Joe Aitcheson on Sun Dog (147 lbs.) kept his mount in second place while keeping him under restraint. *Muguet 2nd, the top weight under 155 lbs., pecked slightly at the second jump, the water, causing the Schiff jumper to drop back to last place. Racing around the clubhouse turn the first time, *Narcissus 2nd established a lead of three or four lengths, but at each jump down the far side, he ran up his fences and lost ground. In fact going to the far turn, even though Aitcheson still held a snug hold on his mount, Sun Dog briefly emerged in front. Midway around the turn, *Narcissus 2nd regained the lead and took the seventh jump, a little more than daylight in front.

The Water Jump

Approaching the water the second time, there was some closing up, and at this fence, Benguala (151 lbs.) stood way back and made a magnificent jump, going to the front as he did. On the outside, Schulhofer started his move, but as the field raced into the clubhouse turn, Benguala held the advantage by about two lengths with four horses across the track. Still continuing to move strongly, *Muguet 2nd ranged up on even terms with Benguala midway around. Turning into the far side the second time, Aitcheson moved with Sun Dog, and the Sanford fencer, still on the inside joined the other two, the trio taking the fence on even terms. Benguala, in the middle, bobbled at this jump, and began to drop back. *Muguet 2nd forged to the front shortly afterwards, but Sun Dog ran with him about a length away, and these two drew off from the remainder of the field. The field was reduced to five when *Doural lugged in going to the last jump on the far side and fell with Jimmy Wyatt. Around the final turn, Aitcheson retained his inside position with Sun Dog, but it became apparent midway around that he was not up to *Muguet 2nd, and through the stretch the latter drew off to a handy win. Sun Dog was easily second best, and Aitcheson did not press him too hard through the stretch with Basil Bee (134 lbs.) third, fourteen lengths away.

Because of the changes in the infield, all track records now begin with the present meeting. However, the steeplechase course is substantially the same as in previous years, to the extent that the jumps are in the same place. The footing, except for a short distance in front of and after each jump, is entirely new. Time for the two and a quarter mile Beverwyck was 4:09 4/5, which not only appeared fast as the race was run, but also in comparison to the old mark of 4:07 4/5 jointly held by Fulton and *Hurst Park, and both made on very hard going.

*Muguet 2nd's victory was his first of the season. In his last start, the Meadow Brook at Belmont, he fell while in contention, and previous to that he ran disappointingly in the International.

Opening Day

On opening day, Montpelier's Nala was much the best and won by eight lengths going a mile and three quarters over hurdles. Carrying top weight of 153 lbs., Nala was under restraint until entering the far side the last time, then the fashionably bred five-year-old quickly responded to urging by Albert Foot and passed Be Moderate, and Walrus to take the lead going to the ninth. Jumping well, and showing speed between fences, Nala went on to score with something in reserve. Be Moderate, the pacemaker, until headed by Nala, left something to be desired at his jumps but held on to withstand a bid by Count Down, besting that one by a length for the place position. Walrus faded back to fourth ten lengths further back, with *Duc de Richmond and Red Douglas in close attendance for the fourth position. Nautilus, running as an entry with Red Douglas, fell at the final hurdle when contending for one of the minor positions.

The following day Mrs. Ogden Phipps' Astrology took the front after going a quarter of a mile and then scampered to a front running victory of six lengths under Paddy Smithwick. Eleven three-year-olds went postward in this mile and three quarters race over hurdles and in the 3 minutes, eight and two fifths seconds it took to complete the contest, loose horses and downed riders were all over the course, due perhaps in part to the swift pace set by Astrology. All eleven were still on their feet entering the far side the second time, then Happy Lion pecked at the seventh hurdle, threw Scottie Riles up over his neck minus his stirrups, and four or five strides later, Riles slipped to the ground. At the ninth, All Good Faith bobbled and lost John Kirkland, but the most trouble occurred at the next to last fence. Astrology still held a three or four length lead, but behind him, F. E. Dixon, Jr.'s Praesepe was making a strong, if belated bid, and gave the impression he might have been the winner. However, he made a serious mistake and literally plowed through the fence, coming down, and giving his rider, Lester Graham, a nasty fall. Behind him, both Young Entry and Crack Up appeared to be bothered to some extent by this, and both these horses lost their riders. Astrology, a bay gelding by Helioscope out of His Duchess, was bred by Ogden Phipps, and was making his fifth effort over hurdles.

Pocotaligo

A heart breaking fall also occurred the following day when Solid Mahogany fell at the final fence, while in the lead, and after making all the pace to this point. The race was at two miles and a sixteenth and it drew a field of nine. For almost a turn of the course, Solid Mahogany set a fast pace, with No Lady right alongside. Going into the far side the last time, the race settled down somewhat with John Doe replacing No Lady in second position, and a group of three or four others in close contention. On the outside, Schulhofer on Meadow Stable's *Palladio began a move which carried him into second place on the far turn, while Cartwright on G. H. Bostwick's Pocotaligo ranged up into contention, along with Rythmn Master. Still in the lead rounding into the home stretch, Widger on Solid Mahogany had a lead of about a length when he fell. On the inside, Pocotaligo responded to urging, closed fast in the last quarter, and then went on to win by a length and a half. *Palladio was not seriously

NEW JERSEY

NEW JERSEY YEARLINGS

A Virginia breeder and a Virginia trainer judged the 14th annual New Jersey Yearling Show sponsored by the Thoroughbred Horse Breeders Association of New Jersey, held at Monmouth Park on July 20th. These were Daniel G. VanClief of Esmont and James Radney of Charlottesville. Blood will tell and the judges accordingly selected as champion and reserve champion a full brother and sister of last year's champion and reserve champion. Best of the show was the chestnut colt by Spartan Valor out of Miss Rounders, by *Rounders, exhibited by the Helis Stock Farm. Reserve was the chestnut filly by Vineland out of Bijou Fol, by *Royal Gem II, exhibited by Mr. and Mrs. George Howell's Tourelay Farm. Ribbons were presented by J. Samuel Perlman, editor and publisher of "The Morning Telegraph" and silver trophies were presented by Amory L. Haskell, president of Monmouth Park, to Clarence Grimes, manager of the Helis Farm, and to Mrs. George Howell, of the Tourelay Farm. Cash prizes were also awarded by the New Jersey Department of Agriculture. Of the 10 colts and 16 fillies shown, the placings were as follows: - Colts; (2) Brave Spartan, Helis Stock Farm; (3) br. c. by Spy Song-Prabeau, by *Alibhai, Barclay Stable; (4) ch.c. by Free France-Blue Warbler, by Case Ace, Woodside Stable. Fillies. CALIFORNIA

CALIFORNIA BREEDERS SALE

The summer sale of breeding stock and race horses, sponsored by the California Thoroughbred Breeders Association, conducted by the Fasig-Tipton Company at the Los Angeles County Fairgrounds, and held on Monday, July 18th, produced a grand total of $234,950 or an average of $1,708 for 79 lots. Tops of the sale were the broodmares *Alabaster II (Valiant Chief-Bandrol, by Parenthesis), consigned by Mr. and Mrs. John Eder and purchased by Tom C. Cox II for $9,600 and Verve (SirDamion-Pelisse, by *Pharamond II), with a weanling bay filly by Imbros, consigned by Conejo Ranch Company and purchased by Newton Bass for $7,500.

J. E. KUYKENDALL

James E. (Corkie) Kuykendall, Fort Worth contractor and lumberman, who also is a firm believer in Thoroughbreds, Thoroughbred racing and Thoroughbred breeding, is back home for a brief spell with his ten year old stallion, Turf Bull, who won the Brady Derby at the Brady Jubilee on July 4. Turf Bull, a son of Eternal Bull out of Delmarie by Pompey, is a half brother to Count Turf, 1951 Kentucky Derby winner. Turf Bull, foaled in the Blue Grass, was a yearling when his famous half brother won the Run of the Roses for J. J. Amiel, New York boniface, and it was rumored that former champion boxer, Jack Dempsey, had more than a boosting interest in Count Turf. Turf Bull slipped down the ladder and wound up racing at small, very small, meetings. However, he is a prime favorite when he runs and his next foray will be at the Ivan Thomas' Centennial race track.

During the past Spring Kuykendall, with an eye to the future, bred Turf Bull to seven mares and all are in foal. That's a good start for the old fellow when it comes time to stay retired. Last but not least, Kuykendall's cup of happiness flowed to the very brim last week when Mrs. L. Brennan, the Registrar for The Jockey Club, issued duplicate certificates for Turf Bull and the seven young matrons in his harem. The originals, stowed in Kuykendall's brief case, were stolen from his automobile. "I wouldn't trade places with the President Elect at the moment" chortled Kuykendall.

MICHIGAN YEARLING SHOW

In the show for Michigan-bred yearlings, held at the Detroit Race Course, on July 22nd, Mrs. William O. Bridge of Shinrone Farm captured the championship and reserve championship with fillies by Gold Note-Early Show and by Gold Note-Inn. Thirty yearlings were entered. Third and fourth place in the filly class went to a bay by Chanlea-Olea, bred by Rodney C. Groff and to a bay by Gold Note-Scarlet Lace, bred by Alastair Barron.

Placings in the colt class were: - 1. a brown by Bully Boy-Agnes Lynn, bred by Peter E. Gettings; 2. a chestnut by Oidenasai-Happy Omen, bred by Mrs. Grace Kosiba; 3. a bay by Hezahoney-Belle Gran, bred by Mrs. Grace Kosiba; 4. a bay by Gold Note-Dogeiana, bred by Dr. I. H. Steinberg and S. S. Kaplan. The show was judged by Dale Shaffer, president of the Michigan Racing Association.

KENTUCKY

NEPTUNE II

Mrs. P. A. B. Widener's Neptune II (Crafty Admiral-Timely Tune, by Eight Thirty), sold at the Keeneland Sales by the Brownwood Farm of B. M. Browning for $15,000 in 1956 and purchased by Mrs. P. A. B. Widener II, has been a most successful race horse in France, as a two-year-old winning the first three of his four races which included two of the legs of the French "Juvenile Triple Crown" - the Prix Robert Papin and the Prix Morny. He also ran a close second in England's Middle Park Stakes. An injury compelled his early retirement. He is a half-brother to the stakes winners Golly, Timely Story and Miss Ottawa. Neptune II will make the 1961 season at Ira Drymon's farm on the Russell Cave Pike near Lexington, Ky.

JOHNS JOY

J. A. Kinard and Charles A. Kenney have sold for $250,000 to Charles A. DuBois, the 14-year-old stallion Johns Joy (*Bull Dog-My Auntie). His new owner is syndicating the horse on the basis of 36 shares at $7,500 per share, and will stand him at his Man o'War Farm near Lexington, Ky. where he will occupy the stall formerly used by the original Man o'War. The stallion has been a particularly successful sire of 2-year-olds and has also produced older stakes winners. Through 1959 his get has earned $1,604,545.

Tempestuous (More Sun-Tournante, by Tourbillon), recent winner of the Hollywood Derby, was bred by Walter P. Chrysler Jr. and was foaled, raised and broken at the Meadowville Farm of Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Howard near Warrenton, Va.

FROM ABROAD

McCARTHY'S FINE IRISH-TRAINED YOUNGSTER

Californian Neil S. McCarthy's Honeyway two-year-old Typhoon, trained by Paddy Prendergast in Ireland, enhanced yet further the reputation that he had gained by his Coventry Stakes victory at Ascot by adding the six furlongs Richmond Stakes at Goodwood.

In a field of five Typhoon was an 11-4 on chance to take the 3080 pounds prize which he duly did by 1 1/2 lengths from a colt owned by another American, Mrs. C. Oliver Iselin's Pardao. But the race was not without its excitement as it seemed that Hutchinson on Typhoon might be boxed in as they entered the final furlong. But he was able to pull Typhoon to the outside and the horse had enough speed to go through and win fairly comfortably.

Typhoon cost 3800 pounds as a yearling and has now amassed 5760 pounds from his three victories. He is out of the Kingstone mare Kingsworthy. P.T.-C.

*TULYAR COLT WINS FIVE OFF THE REEL

*Tulyar cannot be said to have done exceptionally well with the foals that he left in Europe, but his three year old Menelek scored his fifth consecutive success (including a walk-over) in the Warren Stakes over almost 1 1/2 miles at Goodwood, carrying top weight of 118 lb. against four rivals he started at 5-1 and won by three-quarters of a length from the beautifully-bred but not very good colt Lysander, the first foal by Nearco out of the Triple Classic winner Meld.

Menelek is himself well bred for his dam is the good Persian Gulf mare Queen of Sheba, who won four races worth almost 8000 pounds including the Royal Hunt Cup at Royal Ascot. P.T.-C.

WHITNEY MAY HAVE TOP JUVENILE

"Buy me the best colt in the sales" were Ambassador J. H. Whitney's instructions to his old friend and trainer Captain Cecil Boyd-Rochfort at last year's Newmarket yearling sales.

"The Captain's" choice fell on a handsome chestnut colt by *Tudor Minstrel out of Better Days, by Blue Peter, submitted by the Collinstown Stud. After a protracted duel he was bought for 8,300 guineas and named Good Old Days.

Good Old Days made a most impressive first appearance in the five furlongs Granville Stakes at Ascot on July 15th which he won by five lengths from Sky-master, a half-brother to the 2000 Gas winner Martial, who had previously won three races.

Though Good Old Days was receiving 15 lb. from the second horse, and the time on the dead going was slow, he may well turn into a prominent Guineas candidate next year. P.T.-C.

THE FASTEST FILLY SINCE MUMTAZ MAHAL?

The brilliant grey juvenile filly Cynara, for whom owner Gerry Oldham refused a 50,000 American offer following her success in the Queen Mary Stakes at the Royal Ascot Meeting, scored her third success in an unbeaten career when she took the Molecomb Stakes, big event for two year old fillies at the meeting. Her presence scared off all but three of the 243 original entries, but these did include the fast Kerrabee who had beaten the colts in one of the most valuable races of the season, the National Stakes.

Joe Mercer allowed Kerrabee to lead her in the early stages, but then let Cynara to go on; at half-way she passed the leader and he had to do no more than wave his whip at her as Cynara put a three lengths margin between herself and Kerrabee.

By Grey Sovereign, she is chock-full of brilliantly fast blood, being out of Ladycroft, by Portlaw out of Cosmobelle, by Sir Cosmo. It is probably no exaggeration to say that Cynara is probably the fastest juvenile filly seen in England since the fabulous Mumta Mahal. P.T.-C.

ASCOT WINNER FOR U.S.A.

While the impressive looking Red Carnival was winning the six furlongs Rosslyn Stakes at Ascot on King George VI day, an American veterinarian was on his way across the Atlantic to pass the horse sound on behalf of an American owner, Mr. Jacobs. If he gets through the examination, Red Carnival will be sent to race in the U. S. A.

By *Solonaway out of the Queen Mary Stakes winner Rose Linnet, Red Carnival was the winner of his first race, but had been badly interfered with at the start of the National Stakes and finished last. Nonetheless, he started second favorite at 5-2 for the Granville in a field of eleven and won by 1 1/2 lengths from the favored Crowded Room. P.T.-C.

PUERTO RICO

PUERTO RICO YEARLING SHOW

Humphrey Finney, president of the Fasig-Tipton Co., was the judge at the first show of yearlings ever held in Puerto Rico. The show took place at the El Comandante Racetrack near San Juan. Champion of the show was a grey colt, Combat Boots-Benalee by Super Duper, owned by Antonio Mongil who imported the mare in foal. Second best in the colt division was bred by Mario Mercado (Borinquen-Easy Take by *Jacopo). The two top fillies were sired by Yildiz, who formerly stood at the farm of Sydney Glass near West Chester, Pa., but is now covering mares in Puerto Rico. They are out of Cromlus by Pavot and out of La Kitty by Count Gallahad, the winner being bred by Carlos Matos, one of the leading breeders on the island.

ACE MARINE TO MANITOBA

Good news to Manitoba and other Western Canada Thoroughbred breeders is the announcement that Ace Marine, Canada's "Horse of the Year" in 1955, will be brought to Winnipeg to stand as a sire at the JY Farm next spring. The news is of great importance to horsemen in this part of Canada as Ace Marine is one of the finest sires in Eastern Canada and comes to Manitoba only after lengthy negotiations between A. G. 'Scotty' Kennedy, general manager of Assinibola Downs, and the National Stud Farm Ltd., of Oshawa, Ontario. The latter is owned by this country's leading breeder E. P. Taylor (owner of Victoria Park).

Ace Marine was foaled in 1952 and is by Ace Admiral out of Mazarine. On the sire side, Ace Marine carries the blood lines of such illustrious campaigners as Heliopolis, Hyperion and Man o' War. As a 3-year-old, he won seven out of 10 starts including the Queen's Plate Trials 1 and 2; The Queen's Plate; The Prince of Wales Stakes; the Seagram Cup; the Durham Cup and The Breeders' Stakes. As a 4-year-old he established a new record for the mile and 1/8th in winning the Dominion Day Handicap at Woodbine.

Ace Marine will be made available to a selected list of mares from Western Canada. In bringing this famous sire to Manitoba, Mr. Kennedy explained that the main purpose was to assist breeders in this part of the country in upgrading their blood lines. "The arrival of Ace Marine in the West will be one of the biggest boosts to the Thoroughbred and racing industry we've ever had." E.O.

LANSDOWNE PARK

During the recent meeting at Vancouver's Lansdowne Park race track the track had to be shut down for a period of 48 hours when dozens of horses came down suffering from a little-known cough virus. The two-day cancellation of the race card enabled harassed trainers to marshal all available patent cough medicines and to brew up secret 'home' cures to administer to their ailing charges. In an attempt to bolster dwindling pari-mutuel handle, the management of the track experimented by staging three quinella pools daily instead of the customary one. To conform with Canadian law, which insists there be no more than 10 betting pools in any one day at one track, one race had to be dropped from the card, reducing the program to seven races. E.O.

King George VI Stakes

Peter Towers-Clark

After nine consecutive victories that ranged back to her two-year-old career, the English "Wonder Filly" Petite Etoile met with her first defeat in almost two years when beaten half a length by the five-year-old horse Aggressor in the most important all-age race of the year, the King George VI & Queen Elizabeth Stakes over a mile and a half at Ascot. Admittedly Piggott, by lying last as they turned into the short straight, made the filly's task all the more difficult, but in my opinion she was beaten fairly and squarely by a horse that outstayed her over the last furlong.

Petite Etoile was at 2-5 in a field of eight which also comprised last year's Derby winner Parthia, whom she had beaten decisively in the Coronation Cup, the improving Aggressor who had then beaten Parthia a month ago in the Hardwicke Stakes over this course and distance. The most fancied of the three Irish runners was Kythnos, third in the Derby this year. For once the French challenge was very weak, consisting only of Marcel Boussac's Flores III, unplaced in the French Derby and the Grand Prix, and Winston Guest's De Voos, who was expected to make it a good gallop for Parthia and the others.

This was the first time since her defeat in her first race at two that Petite Etoile had had to contend with soft going, and she was faced by formidable opponents in what looked sure to be a truly run race. If she could pass this test, then there would be no qualification to her greatness.

As anticipated, De Voos set off at once at a good pace ahead of Flores, Parthia and Aggressor, whilst Petite Etoile and Kythnos remained at the tail end of the field. In perfect visibility De Voos led them by some three lengths as they went round the far bend of the triangular course and there was little change in the order till they reached the half mile marker. De Voos was by then beginning to tire and the others, led by Flores, closed up on him, Piggott as he always does on the gray filly was in no hurry to move up from last place. The Ascot straight is only about 2 1/2 furlongs and the filly's supporters began to get a little alarmed as the rest of the field led her round the turn, and then became positively distraught when he proceeded to try to take her through on the inside.

Meanwhile Flores went on from Parthia, His Story and Aggressor as De Voos dropped out. With 1 1/2 furlongs to go Lindley shot Aggressor through on the rails to take the lead. The Irish horse His Story also showed prominently for a stride or two, but Parthia was already in reverse. Finding himself confronted with a wall of horses, Piggott began to extricate Petite Etoile and in the process received a bump from Kythnos.

Aggressor was fast making his way home as Petite Etoile came out to challenge him. At the furlong marker I honestly think that she had every chance to beat him if she was good enough, even if she had had rather a rough passage to get there. For the first time since she won the 1000 Guineas more than 14 months ago Petite Etoile came off the bit, but the vivid acceleration that we had seen so often was just not there. She never looked to me likely to catch Aggressor who undeniably in the last few strides was beginning to go away from her again. The verdict at the post was half a length, with Kythnos another four lengths away third well clear of His Story. Parthia ran a dismal race to beat only De Voos and is now to be retired to stud.

It was unfortunate that there should have to be so much controversy about the result, for had Piggott either laid up closer or come straight through on the outside, there would have been no disputing the result. To say that the filly was desperately unlucky, however, is to be far from fair to Aggressor or to his connections. My own view, with which many will probably not agree, is that Aggressor beat her solely because, on this going, at the good gallop they went, she just could not get the 1 1/2 miles; even if Piggott had been closer up at the corner, I believe Aggressor would still have outstayed her over that final furlong.

Now the winner of 14 races value 36,203 pounds, Aggressor is the colt that his owner Sir Harold Wernher decided was not worth keeping and was sent as a yearling to the Irish sales with a 1000 pounds reserve on him. Fortunately for his owner, no one felt inclined to pay it, so Aggressor was sent to be trained by Gosden who has the "overflow" of the Wernher horses that Captain Boyd-Rochfort cannot fit in.

He is the only good colt sired by the unbeaten Combat and was bought at the Dewar dispersal sale in 1954 when his dam Phaetonia was carrying him. Phaetonia, a top class two-year-old that won the Molecomb Stakes at Goodwood and another race and placed in such high-class contests as the Chesham and Cheveley Park Stakes, made 15,500 guineas at the sale, having already bred winners with her first two foals, *Sienna and Pheasant Shoot. Immediately following her into the ring came her Alycidon colt-foal which was bought by the American trainer Jim Ryan and became the stakes winning *Ben Lomond. In the following year Phaetonia bred another colt to Alycidon, named High Perch. Also trained for the Wernhers by Gosden, he scored the ninth win of his career in the last race of the King George VI day fixture and has earned over 9,000 pounds. Since foaling him, however, Phaetonia has unfortunately not had a foal through 1959.

Phaetusa is a great-grand-daughter, being by Nearco from a mare by Hyperion, of Leighon Tor who was the foundation mare of the stud of the Anglicised American, the late Washington Singer.

STEEPLECHASERS LEAD FRENCH SIRE LIST

Currently the leading French sires in number of winners are Samaritain and Caldarium, both of which were first class race horses, not only on the flat, but over jumps as well.

What with the increasing overemphasis on two-year-old racing, hundred thousand dollar races coming so thick and fast you can hardly keep up with them, it is interesting to look at some figures the TRA publicity department has just released. I never would have believed what these figures indicate (and I still wouldn't except that John Day who gets these things out is a paragon of accuracy.)

There were 717 stake races in the U.S. last year and they were won by 456 horses. Of the 456 winners, 288 were four years of age or older. That could mean one of several things: a) that two-year-old racing is not as destructive as I thought (impossible), b) that most of these horses were not heavily raced at two, or c) that there were not as many opportunities to destroy young horses when these were babies.

The oldest of 1959 stake winners was an animal named The Driller which won his first stake in 1958 at the age of ten. There were some other old-timers winning their first races in 1959. Jet K was ten, Gifted Gal (she sure is) was nine, and there were four seven-year-olds, Latin Lover, Little Umpa (where did they get a name like that?), Midontrial, and Silver King.

If you go a little farther into the figures, you will find that a lot of these old timers probably were not raced much if at all at two. Of the 80 four-year-old stake winners in 1959, 30 of them were winning their first stake. Sixty-seven five-year-olds won stakes in 1959 and 26 of them were getting their first stake. Two of the 22 six-year-old stake winners were winning their first one.

Those numbers, of course, don't prove that these horses didn't each run fifty times without success at two. The figures do, however, suggest that if these animals were good enough to win stakes later on, they probably would have won at least one earlier had they been raced enough times as youngsters.

Anyway you look at it though, it is surprising that there are that many oldsters still running when you figure the high attrition among the young horses. Just consider the number of ailments which spring up and the number of young horses which have to be put aside in each of the most recent years between the time of The Garden State in October and the Kentucky Derby the following May.

AGUA CALIENTE PAYOFF

The Agua Caliente Race Track of Tijuana, Mexico has been charged with "fraud" by racing fan Earl James Jones. In a complaint lodged with the Civil Court, Jones alleges he has been bilked of 1,600,025 pesos ($128,002).

Jones claims that he had a winning ticket on the 5-10 betting combination (a parlay of 6 horses). But when he went to the payoff window Francisco S. Ruiz, track representative, refused to authorize payment, claiming that ticket presented was not "valid" since the stub of the ticket was not in the files of the track betting section.

Not only did Ruiz refuse payment, but he retained the winning original ticket, Jones alleged.

Mexicans in Tijuana are all upset, for the parlay betting has become popular with them too. In past only "gringo" suckers had taken the long odds involved. But in recent months the parlay fever has swept the ranks of Tijuana racing fans as well. And if the track does not pay off, there is going to be plenty of protest on the part of Mexican fans too.

N. Y. 1959 REVENUE

Although the net 1959 income of the N. Y. Racing Associations was down because of increased depreciation charges and heavy interest payments, the amount paid to the state in taxes was up 14 per cent over 1958.

NATIONALITY OF *CELTIC ASH

As is always the case when a good horse is involved, there has been much discussion as to whether *Celtic Ash, winner of this year's Belmont is English, Irish, French, American, North Korean, Lower Slobovian, or what. Just about the only thing everybody agrees on is that he is a Thoroughbred and that he did win the Belmont.

In order to settle the question of nationality Pat O'Brien of the New York Racing Association got a photostat of the colt's registration certificate from the English Jockey Club.

That certificate shows that *Celtic Ash is clearly and definitely English. But he is by a French sire out of an English mare of predominately French breeding. *Celtic Ash was reared in Ireland and bought by an American to race over here.

If that isn't enough to make him a crazy, mixed-up kid type (like the baby goat which fell into the washing machine), dig this. He wasn't even "christened" *Celtic Ash. The name on his registration certificate from England is shown as "Irish Ash". It was not until the colt came to the USA that he went high-powered and became *Celtic Ash.

Crazy and mixed-up though his background may be, *Celtic Ash is a pretty fair type of runner. Of course, he didn't beat the best of his generation, Bally Ache, nor did he beat Victoria Park in winning The Belmont, but he did win it and that is quite something.

PANAMANIAN JOCKEYS

They have another one of those Panamanian jockeys down at Monmouth Park. His name is Braulio Baeza. If he is anywhere near as good at his trade as is his fellow countryman, Manuel Ycaza, we will have another very fine jockey in the American racing picture. If he is even half as intent on winning as is Ycaza, between the two of them, they ought to keep the stewards busy.

Guess who was among the beaten jockeys when Baeza won his first race in Panama in 1955. Ycaza, naturally.

It is interesting to speculate what would have happened had Baeza been aboard Tim Tam when Ycaza aboard Jewel's Reward smacked the Calumet colt all over the place in the stretch run in the Flamingo a couple of years back.

DEMOCRATIC DELEGATES AT HOLLYWOOD RACES

Senators, members of the House of Representatives, governors, delegates and distinguished convention visitors took time off from politics Tuesday afternoon (July 12th) to enjoy luncheon and the races at Hollywood Park before heading for the resumption of the Democratic National Convention at the Los Angeles Sports Arena.

The party of nearly 200 was hosted by Neil J. Curry, chairman of the California Horse Racing Board, for the American Trucking Associations, Inc., of which he is chairman of the executive committee and past president.

Among senators who partook of a sumptuous buffet in the Hollywood Park directors' lounge, and then witnessed the first half of the eight-race program, were Clinton P. Anderson, New Mexico; E. L. Bartlett, Alaska; Alan Bibble, Nevada; Howard Cannon, Nevada; Edward Durbin, Washington; Albert Gore, Tennessee; Vance Hartke, Indiana; Hubert Humphrey, Minnesota; Henry M. Jackson, Washington; Olin D. Johnson, South Carolina, and B. Everett Jordan, North Carolina.

Also, Senators Oren Long, Hawaii; Russell Long, Louisiana; Warren Magnuson, Washington; Eugene J. McCarthy, Minnesota; Frank Moss, Utah; Edmund S. Muskie, Maine; Jennings Randolph, West Virginia, and Stephen Young, Ohio.

Among U. S. House of Representatives members present were Victor Anfuso, New York; Lindley Beckworth, Texas; John A. Blatnik, Minnesota; Hale Boggs, Louisiana; Edward P. Boland, Massachusetts; Floyd Bredding, Kansas; Harold Cooley, North Carolina; James J. Delaney, New York; Daniel J. Flood, Pennsylvania; and Jack Flynt, Georgia.

Also, representatives John E. Fogarty, Rhode Island; Samuel N. Friedel, Maryland; Kathryn E. Granahan, Pennsylvania; Denver Hargis, Kansas; Oren Harris, Arkansas; Michael Kirwan, Ohio; Thomas Machrowicz, Michigan; Ray Madden, Indiana; James H. Morrison, Louisiana, and Thomas J. O'Brien, Illinois.

Also, James C. Oliver, Maine; Thomas P. O'Neill, Massachusetts; Dan Rostenkowski, Illinois; Frank Smith, Mississippi; Harley O. Staggers, West Virginia; Homer Thornberry, Texas, and John Young, Tex-

THE OSMAND

The sixth race at Belmont Park on June 18 this summer was a six-furlong handicap with a purse of $7,500. It was called The Osmand for a Thoroughbred which did some running a few years back. More about that later.

In this race on June 18 there were seven contestants. Of those seven, three had bettered or equalled track records in New York this year. Egotistical had run 1:09 2/5 to break Warfare's six-furlong track record on March 28. Vendetta had equalled Warfare's track record of 1:35 1/5 in winning the one-mile Westchester Handicap on April 9. Rare Rice did seven furlongs in 1:22 to establish a new Aqueduct record when he won an overnight handicap on May 24.

That looked like a rather formidable array of record holders for the others to face. It didn't scare them even one little bit though. All but one of the others beat the three record holders. Rare Rice was fourth, Egotistical was fifth, and Vendetta was sixth in the seven-horse field. The other runners must not have been reading the papers much lately.

Now, getting back to this Osmand animal, the one the race was named for, he is one of a very very few horses which have had dinners held in their honor. And he is probably the only horse since the time of Nero (or was it Alexander the Great) which had the opportunity of attending the dinner given for him.

In the late twenties, Messrs. William Dwyer and Joe E. Widener gave a dinner at the Biltmore in New York in honor of Osmand, the animal being owned by Mr. Widener. Osmand was brought into the hotel and transported upstairs in the elevator to the scene of the festivities. It was reported at the time that Osmand had a bully time and entirely too many brandies after the dinner. R. J. Clark

The Huntsman Reminisces

Samuel J. Henry

"Old John Peel", said Bob Curran one summer day at the Chevy Chase Kennels while the hounds stretched out in the shade, "was the most famous fox hunter that ever lived, and I often find myself humming 'D'ye ken John Peel with his coat so gray, d'ye ken John Peel at the break of day, d'ye ken John Peel when he's far, far away with his hounds and his horn in the morn-ing?' And you know, they say of him that he would drink, would Peel, 'till he couldn't stand, and then they would clap him on his horse and away he would go as right as a fiddle."

Bob, a small, powerful man, was in a jovial mood and his gray eyes twinkled as he continued: "Being a huntsman, foxes have always interested me; of all animals he is the most mysterious. You've heard the old rhyme: 'A lean horse for a long race, a spotted pig for a boar, a red fox for a hard chase and white oak planks for a door." Yes, the red fox is the long running, tough and courageous one, in contrast to the timid, faint-hearted gray. A game old red knows his country intimately and is not afraid to strike out boldly, sometimes going off as far as 10 or 15 miles. He knows where the dens, trails and crossings are, and with his ample tricks and ravelings takes every advantage in frustrating his enemies. He is a faithful husband and father, and should hounds press him hard when his vixen and their cubs are in the home den, he will perish rather than reveal their whereabouts."

The Vier's Mill Fox

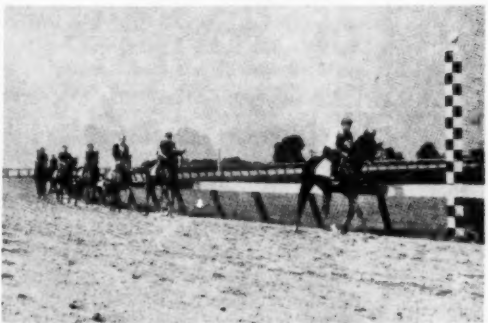

The Huntsman was now warmed up to his favorite sport, and it was clear he had a story to tell. "One cold, cloudy

February day awhile back, (between 1906-1911) we had a hunt I will never forget," he said. "Only a few were out because rain had fallen during the night and the going was sloppy - the Master, Mr. Clarence Moore on Masterpiece, Miss Frances Moore on her black mare, Mr. Alex Legare on Gray Lady, Mr. Dion Kerr with his new chestnut horse and one or two others. I was on Thunder; the Whippers-in, Shirley Sudduth with the leg up on Mr. Jorrocks, and Pete Curran on Lord Craven.

"The meet had been fixed for ten o'clock at the Garrett Park railroad station, and promptly at the hour we moved across the tracks and cast hounds in heavy woods where I felt a fox might be lying up in a hollow log after a night on his feeding trails. The hounds went to work at once. 'Try up old fellows,' I called, 'Push 'im up in there, try!' and when a first season bitch opened on a rabbit, I cracked my whip and shouted, 'War' hare, Sweet lips! What are you at! Get back, War' hare then!' It began to look like we were drawing blank; then I see one of the whippers-in, who had been stationed at the edge of the woods to watch for a fox that might try to steal away, waving his cap and I knew he had viewed. I called the pack and put them on, the entire ten and a half couple in full chorus and I blowing the gone away, gone, gone, ah-ah-a-w-a-y. This fellow carried us for three miles, then doubled back and raced toward Rockville. Mr. Moore shouted 'It's that old Vier's Mill red, and we are in for a burner. Spare your horses all you can, but don't get too far behind or hounds will lose you.' The hounds knew they had a 'tartar' too, and as he twisted and turned to throw them off, their notes took on a savage tone. A half mile from Rockville he veered to the right and, sensing his danger, crossed Rock Creek below the Halpine Road and headed for Aspen Hill, checking the pack by running through cattle and sheep, dense banks of honeysuckle, piney woods, and the very edge of the old mica mine. The checks were welcome, nevertheless, for they gave the horses a breather and afforded the riders a chance to study hound work at close range.

Big Country

"With everybody riding well up, including two farmers who had joined us, he passed Aspen Hill on his right, breezed across the Olney Pike, and pointed straight for the big country to the East, eventually bringing us to some of the finest grass lands in the State. In this perfect setting for a fox race he forced hounds to really extend themselves. Over and around the huge Heurich, Rapley and Wimsatt farms he coursed, not a let up in field after field, but an out and out galloping picnic, yet never affording us a fleeting view.

"Our phantom-like racer had now come to the limits of his regular beat where the terrain was familiar to him in the smallest detail. But he was no fool; he knew the dangers of invading the strange country beyond where the pack would have him at their mercy. Moreover, his concealed den on the bluff overlooking the mill race began to beckon. The red one responded. Turning back, he started for home, not crying Uncle, mind you, for he still had plenty of speed and strategy left.

"As he sailed along, keen and jaunty, his foxy brain searching for a spot to confuse and delay us, he thought of a nearby farm house and when we reached the place we found he had pulled a fast one, an excited woman informing us that the moment she heard the hunt approaching she ran to the back porch just in time to see the fox dash through the barnyard scattering ducks and chickens in every direction, her little terrier nipping his heels until he leaped a picket fence and disappeared. Of course, the trick worked out as he had planned, the rank odors of the yard completely foiling his scent and holding us up until Falstaff and Bertha recovered the line. As the clamorous hounds went away Mr. Moore shouted 'They're warning him to step faster or hole up, Bob'

"We were shortly to enjoy one of the unforgettable highlights of riding to hounds, a thrill ever old and ever new. Pushing our horses to the limit we came to a big meadow where Paint Branch meandered through a stand of swamp willows. Here we viewed the fox on the edge of the timber being mobbed by a noisy flock of crows. Y'know, there is a strange quality about a running fox, something mysterious and beautiful. Silent and stealthy, he paid no attention to his feathery tormentors, but skimmed over the soggy ground as graceful as a swallow, his only worries the bugling hounds and cries of Tally-Ho, Tally-Ho!

"After tallying the fugitive a series of mishaps struck us. Mr. Legare's mare lost all four shoes in a quicksand, Mr. Kerr broke a stirrup leather, which Shirley promptly made good by a spare he carried, and Miss Francis' mare, stepping in a muskrat hole, let her down, but with the help of Mr. Kerr she quickly remounted.

A Blazing Finish

air and hounds ran as if glued to his line. Into heavy thickets, under hickories and oaks edging little pools of water, scurried the crafty beggar. Breaking covert he crossed a pasture and came to a stone wall. When we got to it, hounds threw up their heads and ceased tonguing, puzzled by the complete loss of scent. Up to this point the chase had been an even thing, and I realized that he would beat us if we did not make a quick recovery. I lifted hounds and galloped them down-wind to a small creek where the wall ended, hounds still mute and as perplexed as I was.

My judgment indicated that the fox had run the wall, but how and where he jumped off was the big question. Probably made a mighty leap, I argued, and landed across the creek. It was a shallow bit of water, and as I was spurring Thunder through it, Sailor, a hound with plenty of "fox sense", beat me across. After ranging in the brush for a few minutes, Sailor picked up the line and let out a roar; the whole pack rushed to him and were off, scent breast high and hounds running like smoke.

"As we had chased the red rascal some twenty miles, our horses were beginning to lean on their bits - a sure sign of fatigue; they were covered with mud and foam and we had to steady them at walls and fences. It was now or never, and as hounds burst into an old stubble field, I rose in my stirrups and called, 'Break him up, yoi-yoicks, drive on my beauties.' At that Sailor, Ruler, and Spottswood surged from the screaming pack and forged ahead in a booming challenge; it was like the last quarter in a horse race when breeding and condition begin to tell. They push hard and soon have him in sight, his head down, tongue far out and brush dragging. In no time at all they are at his flanks; he turns and snaps at them, and they pull him down on the Old Ford and Graham farm on the Vier's Mill Road, north of Wheaton, about a mile from his den. I sound the kill notes, leap from my steaming horse, beat off the pack and cut the mask and brush from the carcass. Mr. Moore was right at my side and I said, 'Sir, that was a tough, hard running fox, but he wasn't good enough today', and he replied, 'Quite true, Bob. I never saw hounds work better. That last four was blazing, and they deserved to have him.' Then Mr. Moore orders me to hand the brush to Miss Frances and keep the mask myself."

Blowing Hounds Home

Taking a pull on his pipe, Bob resumed his story: "After the Master had passed the flask around, he took a good swig himself and said to me, 'That's enough for today, Bob, blow hounds home.' I sound the long, mournful notes and we shove off at a sharp trot. When we arrive at the kennels there is Mr. Moore's big limousine waiting, and he and Miss Frances and several others get in and are driven to the Club. I look the hounds over as they are eating the hot feed which kennel men have prepared, and give orders for attending to any that are injured. On my way to the house, a stud groom excitedly reports Roxanne has foaled a beautiful colt, and I go to the stables where I find the mare on her feet and the youngster coming along in good shape. As we had left the kennels at eight o'clock and returned at three, we were seven hours in the saddle, jumped everything we came to, and best of all, accounted for our fox."

"Is that the fox head that hangs in your house?" someone asked. "It is," replied Bob, "I hope my children always take good care of it."

(NOTE: - The writer is glad to report that during a recent visit to Marrian Curran's farm, on the Kemp Mill Road, he had the pleasure of seeing the trophy - a snarling fox baring his sharp teeth in defiant challenge.)

The Beauty of the Southland

(Written by Clarence Ousley of Fort Worth, Texas, and first published in "Beau Monde," October 23, 1898.)

When the mint is in the liquor and its fragrance on the glass,
It breathes a recollection that can never,
never pass -
When the South was in the glory of a never-ending June,

The strings were on the banjo and the fiddle was in tune,
And we reveled in the plenty that we thought could never pass
And lingered at the julep in the everbrimming glass.

There was mettle in the morning and adventure in the chase
And Beauty sat the saddle with the poetry of grace;

And the singing of the darkies in the cotton and the corn
Was chorused with the echo of the old familiar horn.

There was splendor in the glamour of the canopy at noon,
And sweetness in the languor of the lazy afternoon,

And the breezes of the evening were the breathings of romance

That quickened into whispers in the rapture
of the dance,

While the banjo in the cabin and the fiddle in the hall

With music filled the measure of the night's ecstatic thrall.

O, the beauty of the Southland in the splendor of its prime

The fragrance and the plenty of a radiant summer time,

When we reveled in the glory that we
thought could never pass,

And lingered at the julep in the ever-
brimming glass.

Richard C. Byron, the artist who painted our cover picture, is an ardent fox-hunter who lives near Charlottesville, Virginia. He also plays polo with the Farmington Club.

About his artistic career he writes: - "After briefly attending the Boston Museum School, I became a pupil of R. H.

Ives Gammell, the well-known Boston painter and author of books on painting. Under Gammell's criticism I studied drawing and painting for four years. Although my specialty is portraiture, I also do still life and landscape, as well as interiors and figures.

"My work has been exhibited in New York, Boston and Seattle, as well as here in Charlottesville, and I am represented in private collections in several states."

A sign on the back of one of the trailers bound for the Upper Hudson Regional Rally might solve a problem for others. The sign read "This is the Genesee Valley Hunt Pony Club bound for the Regional Rally. Please don't ride my - - -". Below was a large picture of a horse's tail. Needless to say, the trip was made without delay.

Fairfield Hunt Club

Horses, children, more horses, ponies and dust were the keynotes of the 37th Fairfield Show. The largest show ever, Fairfield is noted for its excellent hospitality, lovely outside course, and wonderful facilities, and this year with the added classes on the polo field, as well as a new high-jump class, and splitting the green working division into separate awards for first and second year horse, there was everything a show could desire.

With a completely revamped prize list, much more money and many new classes were added, and if entries are a criteria, they must have been a tremendous success. The new junior jumper division produced the most exciting class of the show, the Jr. Six Bar, which went to three jump-offs, and when no winner still was determined, the committee awarded three first prizes to Rusty Stewart, Mike Del Balso and Frank Imperatore, all of whom did a magnificent job of riding. In the Pony Divisions, another new innovation this year, there were over forty ponies, yet both championships travelled home to Pennsylvania - one to Terry Rudd and her wonderful Hot Shot Kid, and the other to Susie Burr and her magnificent Wizard of Oz.

Green working hunters appeared from everywhere, and since the committee gave separate monies and awards for the two divisions, many more people went home happy. The Paxsons had a walk-away in the first year group with their Fire Sand, while Ed Daniels just edged out Raymond Burr by a point in the second year section, with Lakelawn Farms' Pine Needles winning over Kimberton Hill Farms' Air Dome.

Peggy Augustus and her Little Sailor always give a wonderful account of themselves at Fairfield, and this year was no exception. They are a joy to behold as they gallop and jump over the long outside course, and this year he was undisputed working hunter champion.

There were scads of Junior Hunters, but two horses consistently dominated the division; they were Little Fiddle and Marianna, and after they were pinned one-two in the stake, the championship awards went just the same way. In the Junior Jumpers, on the other hand, the ribbons were so well split up that five horses were within a point of each other at the finish, the championship finally going to Acapulco, ridden by Frank Imperatore, Jr.

Finally, in the jumper ranks, which had all new fences and some new courses this year, Harry de Leyer had a field day. Winning the Green Jumper Bonus Point Class on his ex-hunter, Pedro, Harry came right back with the legendary Snowman and captured the Open Jumper Bonus Point Stake, to be crowned double champion as well.

A well-filled entry list and drenching rain welcomed back the 39th annual Greenwich Horse Show, after a five-year absence from the show world, when the Greenwich Junior had substituted for it. The good sportsmanship and cheerfulness of the exhibitors and spectators, after hours of cold, wet and mud, was enough to warm the hearts of the Show Committee, who had worked so long and so hard preparing their new show grounds on the beautiful, green fields of the William Heron property for this day. No one complained. Many looked happy, in spite of the weather. And there were no accidents. These things made for a good show even without sunshine.

Next year the Greenwich Horse Show hopes to add Green Working Hunters and sunny weather to its Prize List and the Show Committee sends its thanks to all who came and were so wonderfully uncomplicated this year.

of course

TWO POPULAR Walking Horse bits available in Eldonian Stainless Steel are our No. 5300 and No. 5301.

Known in early western days as grazing bits, they give a horse that extra port room that makes for comfortable tongues, ease that allows latitude for head movement. And, at the same time, "Eldonian" provides the strength that means control for you.

On the trail and in the ring "Eldonian" keeps its gleam. It's a pleasure to the eye. It never stains or discolors. It is easily cleaned. A sponge and a wipe with a chamois or a soft cloth does the trick.

When you visit your dealer, make it "Eldonian," of course, when you want the best.

Penn State

The Penn State 11th annual horse show began at 8:30 A.M. after last minute braiding and brushing had been finished. The rain was coming down at a steady rate as the riders mounted for the first class of the day. At the end of this class, it was hard to tell whether the horse or rider was covered more with the mud from the ring. By afternoon the sun appeared intermittently while showers dampened the spirits of the spectators, but not those of the riders. Anne McKenzie, a member of the Penn State Team, on Late Date, dominated the Hunter Classes, and Grier School's Jill Barton on Candy Bar took the Open Jumper Stake. Horsemanship classes showed two other Grier School girls, Carlinda Storm and Vickie J. Weller, topping the advanced divisions. Captain Gagarin's demonstration on Pixie was the highlight of the show. As cameras clicked to catch Captain's last ride at Penn State, Pixie performed dressage techniques of high-schooling. Captain showed the crowd how not to ride as he went around the ring with his back rounded and twisting in the saddle when trying to turn.

Then, he corrected all he was doing incorrectly, explaining why it was wrong, and put Pixie through her paces in a grand finale. Walt Lehman, President of the Riding Club, presented a Chafing Dish to Captain, and once more cameras snapped to get this memorable moment. M.R.

Detroit

It was hard to pick the person or persons at the Detroit Horse Show, who were living right and thinking nice thoughts to get such a good break on the weather. Of course, anything would have been an improvement over what their neighbors to the south contended with at Grosse Pointe! Speaking of these two excellent shows, which are held in the eastern part of the state within a week of each other, I would like to direct your attention to the championship summaries. These two shows do a very unique thing by awarding high score trophies to the junior rider getting the highest number of points in equitation during the two shows, the junior working hunter, and the regular working hunter. It is a wonderful idea and whoever came up with the original idea must certainly have been taking smart pills. Other shows would do well to give it some serious consideration if they are held in the same area and within a reasonable length of time of each other. It certainly would be an inducement for an exhibitor to stay over and show at the second show if he or she did well at the first one.

That man from Virginia, Morton W. "Cappy" Smith, stayed over and made it pay. His good mare After Dark performed well enough to win the green working division championship and his game jumper Sure Thing jumped his way into the green jumper championship to give an exact carbon copy of the show held the previous week-end, thus proving that they can put out in any type of footing. Mrs. Jerry Helder and her big jumping little mare Abbreviation took home the reserve tri-color in the working division for green horses. And attractive Carlene Blunt came all the way up from Delray Beach, Florida, to ride her gray Atom Power to the reserve in the green jumper division.

Mr. & Mrs. Bob Egan and Mrs. Ruth Hardin sent out their pleasant Mr. Deliberate to win the conformation green championship over the trappy courses laid out on the rolling grounds of the hunt club. Max Bonham rode Mrs. Bonham's New Rule to the second spot in this division.

There is often a misconception on the part of the layman that the junior riders are really not as good as their elders or that their division leaves something to be desired. Nothing could be further from the truth. From my viewpoint the only difference is that they are just younger. Karen Mykrantz had a Picnic and the two of them went well throughout the show and the junior working championship was theirs. Roddy Wasserman rode his newly acquired big Irish bred chestnut Fare Thee Well - and they did. At any rate it was good enough to give them the reserve.

Rollie Marenberg riding her game little brown gelding Scamp slipped over the big fences and won the Junior Jumper Championship, and John Vandewater gave Marilyn Cole the irons on his Playboy and the combination clicked for reserve honors.

Mr. John S. Pettibone sent Bob Kearns and Miss Poppet Robinson along with "The Duke" from Middleburg, Va. and when the final tally was added up it was the Duke of Paeonian who was led out to receive top honors, with Mr. & Mrs. Fred Wilson's Dragnet lined up right behind him. While speaking of the type that come along only every so often, the Bob Egans of Bloomfield have one in their Blue Monday. This combination is about as familiar a sight in the winner's circle as any around today. Detroit was no exception and they won the big working division championship. But it was no pushover, as Krystn Glancy and her venerable Moonflight kept pushing them all the way to the wire.

It was once said that this game was not for the "faint of heart" and that statement never rings truer than when one sees some of the courses set up for the "acrobats of the horse show world", the open jumpers.

I don't know what you knew him as, Safari Joe or Speculation, but he is called Wicklow now and no matter what his name was, or is, he can jump. When the smoke cleared it was Patrick Butler's Wicklow, jumper champion, with the John Wallace's Delayed reserve.

It was all in all an extremely well run show and the committee certainly should be complimented. There was only one dark spot in the entire picture and that was when Mrs. Bill "Betty" Queen took a real nasty one over the chicken coop. Rather an eerie hush fell over the large crowd - you could have heard a pin drop. Even the horses stood quiet when the ambulance left with the girl with the blond braids and the distinctive red bows. And believe me, it was a happy and a relieved crowd that welcomed the word over the public address system that Betty was going to be alright.

No show is ever better than the judging it gets, and the post-show comments of all the exhibitors making plans for next year made it clear that they felt the staff of judges this year did a very creditable job.

NEW HOPE FOR HORSES WITH HEAVES

A remarkable new feed for horses with heaves is now available. It has relieved the symptoms in hundreds of animals afflicted with heaves. It will prevent heaves if fed before early symptoms develop.

Wirthmore New Hope Horse Feed can be a true life saver, even for seemingly hopeless cases. It has been used successfully by many horse owners.

Ask about Wirthmore New Hope Horse Feed at your local Wirthmore dealer's or write Wirthmore Feeds Inc., Waltham 54, Mass. for descriptive circular and name of nearest dealer.

U.S.E.T. Benefit

"Biggest" and "Best" may be among the most overworked words in the English language. Nonetheless, they most certainly apply to the 1960 edition of a show that each year increases in quality, popularity, and at least local importance.

For one thing, top awards have never been so widely spread. Starting with Green Working Hunter, where the Championship went to Jameson, handsome big chestnut from the ski country of Aspen, through Novice Jumper in which the Argentine import Bravo nosed out one-time racing Quarter Horse Telegram for the top award, to Regular Working Hunter with the Canadian Northman II beating his Colorado-bred stablemate Lursole for the tri-color, and winding up with Open Jumper, in which Red Buttons, once a $50 refugee from the glue factory, topped his Thoroughbred stablemate Crafty Queen for the award. Even in Junior Exhibitor Section, it took a win by Star Quest in the last class to nail down the Championship over Lynn Wilson's Banner and Ann Erickson's Gray Frost, two of the better kid's horses we have had the pleasure of watching since the halcyon days of Booger Red.

With neither Time Limit Fault and Out nor Puissance in the Jumper Division quite up to the sensational standards of 1959, best classes from the standpoint of the spectator were in Novice Jumper and Regular Working Hunter Sections, "Take Your Own Line" from the former and Handy Hunter from the latter being especially top grade. The Green Hunters, for perhaps the first time, produced some really Grade A prospects - we have seldom seen two more promising youngsters than Bette Brandenburg's Wee Alice and Karen Phipps' Viva's Last, a pair that will be pretty tough for the Open horses of today to beat in another year.

It would be gross injustice indeed not to mention the most enthusiastic audience ever for a Colorado horse show - the eighty-odd orphans of all ages, creeds, colors, and sizes who attended the Thursday session as guests of anonymous friends of the U.S.E.T. Win, lose, draw, fall, or refuse out, every entry got a big cheer from those grand kids - and they meant every "Yay Telegwam".

It's been a long and sometimes discouraging struggle, but this year there seems good reason to believe that at least a few Denverites are becoming aware of the fact that a first class hunter-jumper show is a spectator sport of real attraction.

Pecos Valley Horsemen

The Pecos Valley Horsemen held their 14th Annual Charity Horse Show for the first time as a four day show. The country's much-needed rain plagued the show and taxed the ingenuity of the show management to try and keep classes on schedule. Even with the loss of two performances they were able to close the show only three hours past their original scheduled time Sunday afternoon.

Though most of the horses had never jumped in rain or mud, and most of the riders had never seen rain, the hunters and jumpers, despite the qualms of the management and spectators, put in some of the best rounds in the pouring rain without a slip or slither. The excellent condition of the jumper courses was due mostly to the efforts of assistant manager Ronnie Wingfield - his tractor was busy through most of the show.

The Quarter Horses and Thoroughbreds had a nip and tuck go with hunter and jumper divisions. The conformation hunter championship was split by the QH Brutus and the TB Wonderlator; the TB Modest Me, a product of Virginia, topped the green conformation classes; and both green jumper and open jumper championship awards went to Quarter Horses - Carol Ann Norman's The Hammer and John's Danny, owned by Mrs. R. C. Jones.

Friday, August 12, 1960 Greater Cincinnati

The Greater Cincinnati Charity Horse Show which was held for the first time on the infield of picturesque River Downs Race track, proved to be one of the best summer sporting offerings, in spite of downpours the first two days.

There were plenty of entries in each division and many good rounds were turned in over the Devon-like outside course which was designed by Howard Lewis and Alphonse "French" DeLarbre.

Queen City conformation champion was Hot Dog, owned and ridden by Mrs. Jerome Rich. Hot Dog has won many tri-colors on the Tri-State and Michigan Circuits.

A. J. Long's Irish import, Sweet William, won the blues in the handy and open classes and was high point scorer in the regular working events to win the title rosette.

Capable Lexington, Ky., show manager, J. T. Denton, did an excellent job in organizing the hunter interest in Cincinnati. Head of the charity horse show was Charles Dubois, owner of Man O' War Farm. Much credit in the five day event is due Mrs. Jane Albers, show secretary, the person responsible for the entertainment and excellent exhibitor hospitality. J.A.

Canadian Pony Club Rally

Broadview

The Toronto and North York Hunt Branch, host this year for the 13th annual Canadian Inter Branch Pony Club Rally, chose wisely when it selected the Barrie Fair Grounds as the site for the rally, held from June 25th to the 28th. The Barrie Curling Club permitted the use of its lovely arena for quarters for two-legged participants. The girls had cots (loaned by the Army) set up in a curtained-off portion of the rink. This gave them lots of room and was completely segregated from other activities; it was also quiet and the girls managed to keep it tidier than has ever before been the case. The boys had the locker room under the dining hall for their dormitory. Catering was excellent. The curler's lounge above the dining hall was available for a quiet place for adults to relax, for movies held one evening, and for the prize giving. The rally secretary's office was at the end of the dining hall. This arrangement helped a great deal toward the efficient operation of the Rally, as it meant both competitors and officials were not retracing their steps unnecessarily.

In all respects this was probably the most efficiently run Rally yet, and the stabling also contributed to this. All horses were in the same barn, tied in single stalls of excellent construction. Tack and feed rooms (also single stalls) were interspaced between the horses, and there was a wide aisle to work in. This meant that everything was right at hand for competitors and that all were on an absolutely even footing, which helped, too, in judging stables. The stable management was superb - in part due to convenient and equal layout, and in part due, of course, to the competitors. Each Branch for the most part had boys and girls who had participated in previous rallies and knew what was required. First time participants thus easily fell into the swing of things. But also Branches this year came with excellent helpers. Quite a few of these helpers had not before been to a rally, but were good workers and evidently had been well primed for the task at hand. The Branch captains, all experienced, had the work well planned and the overall effect was most impressive.

Stable Management

Minor penalties were meted out in the stable management judging and some bonus points were also given for particular thoughtfulness or thoroughness beyond that expected. Only in a few instances was it necessary to give penalties of a severe nature. The most serious, and only incident of its kind at the Rally, was when one girl, provoked to temper, hit her horse over the head with a whip. Lesser penalties, still considered serious, were given for standing horses in the aisle with no one holding them while picking out their feet etc., permitting a horse standing in the aisle to kick at another passing it; leading a horse out into the aisle by halter only without putting a lead rope on it; changing from bridle to halter outside the barn when its stall was only a few steps away; and sitting on the grass while letting a horse graze. All these errors might be the sort of thing one could get away with at home, but were considered careless horsemastership, especially in strange surroundings and in congested areas. Anyone who did not tie with a proper slip-knot lost marks. Some deductions were made for this the first day, but thereafter there was only one incident of a wrong knot.

On the whole horses were well groomed and taken care of, but invariably it seems possible to find horses with patches of dried sweat not properly brushed over behind girth and on belly and often under the jaw. That the girth be left perfectly smooth and clean is especially important if chafing is to be avoided. The back under the saddle should, for the same reason, receive particular attention, but as this is a place that shows, everyone had done a good job on that area. Several horses showing pressure bumps on the back when they came to the Rally were improved by the good care they received, in spite of daily work in summer heat.

THE CHRONICLE

The tack and tack rooms were immaculate. Although a single stall does not allow for too much space, the planning and efficiency of layout was amazing. Everything necessary had been brought, although a few seemed to be missing syringes, but all have learnt to leave unnecessary things such as table lamps, etc., at home. Tack rooms were very attractive with all equipment in stable colours, but attractiveness was not considered, only efficiency and neatness. Tack rooms were marked only after supper under "put up" conditions, yet throughout the day they were always tidy. The only errors found in tack for the entire group was one bit on backwards and one end of a strirrup leather with a bit of sweat on it. This was remarkable - all leather was in lovely condition - beautifully cleaned - neither too sticky or too dry - all buckles polished and all put up uniformly with every keeper "just so."

Turnout inspection preceded every mounted event and here errors were found, principally in respect to offset stirrups on backwards; running martingales without stoppers or stoppers left on reins when no martingale was used; and tabs not in "keepers" or "runners". Occasionally spurs were found not to be fitted correctly.

Care After The Cross Country

One thing the stable management judges noted was lack of judgment or confidence. The cross-country course was well over a mile from the Fair Grounds. Competitors had to travel by police escort along a highway for this distance and returned to the Fair Grounds in convoy in the same way. For the most part it should have been all right to ride at least part of the home journey, but nearly all led their horses home. Due to the convoy requirement, between one and two hours had passed between the time horses arrived at stables and the time they had actually performed on the cross-country. Some were hot and sticky but from the heat of the day rather than exertion on the course. The judges were not pleased with how water was meted out to the horses on return to stables. Most horses had received no water at all since 7:30 a.m., it being between 2 and 3 o'clock before they returned to stables after the cross-country. Yet some children, knowing of the danger of watering a hot horse, gave no water at all. Some gave only a few swallows, and had no plan to water horses off before putting them away for good. Others did give small drinks in the course of walking them on return to stables, but just about all showed lack of discretion about watering them. Some said it was better to be safe than sorry, which is true, and perhaps the horses were not going to come to any real harm for lack of water but the horses were going to be very sorry if the judges had not stepped in to see that they did receive more water. This situation would indicate that all Pony Club members require more specific informa-

TEELA-WOCKET RIDING CAMP

for ADULTS AND FAMILIES

August 31 - Sept. 11 this outstanding girl's riding camp in the heart of Vermont's Green Mountains is open to adults and their families. There will be horseback riding for beginners, experienced and advanced riders. The Archery and Dance camps will be in session. There will be square dancing, archery, swimming, golf, tennis or one may just loaf in the beautiful surroundings. Comfortable quarters, excellent meals. Moderate rates.

tion about watering and about how to judge various stages of "being hot."

The care horses received at the end of the cross-country course also indicates need for more instruction. Most were right there to sponge off the girths and walk them with saddles off, but there seemed a decided lack of knowing why care on the completion of the course was desirable. Most pulled up short with a bang after crossing the finish line, with no thought to ease the horse out gradually to canter, to trot, to walk, and let him "blow out". Better to loosen the girths and leave the saddle on for a few minutes to permit gradual return of circulation to the back; to walk quietly to let him catch some of his breath, and a few swallows of water, followed later by a bit more - a better use of water than sloshing it on the horse when in all likelihood the latter would be washed down again back at the stables. Only two competitors gave a drink to horses up on the course. Some horses came in with legs covered with mud. It might have been a good idea to sponge them off to see if there were cuts obscured by mud that needed attention. District Commissioners would be doing the horse world a service to explain in detail exactly why careful and sensible attention should be given a horse immediately following strenuous exercise. With combined training type competitors gaining in popularity and also as hunting now a days is so often terminated by a ride home in a van or trailer, treatment that will insure both the comfort and welfare of the horse should be thoroughly understood. It is not sufficient to drill a method into the young horsemen. Reasons for same must be given so they will be able to use discretion when circumstances differ from the usual.

Helpers

At the Canadian Rally it was considered quite in order for any participant to lend a hand wherever needed. This meant that "B" helpers might assist "C" competitors. Branch captains could lend a hand to associate riders (who came as individual competitors and for whom there was no special provision for a helper), or help could be given to participants from rival Branches. This seemed to work out well and helped stable work to run more smoothly as well as to promote the friendly Pony Club spirit which is certainly to be fostered. The whole was kept track of by the stable judges, so the individual responsible for error or bonus was noted, no matter whom he helped or what horse was involved. But when an error was made in connection with a specific horse, its rider also got a penalty, it being considered the responsibility of the rider to see that all was done right for his horse whether or not he had actually done it himself.

Stirlin Harris, completely on his own as the sole representative from Genesee Valley, (U.S.) probably got the most help from different quarters. Eglinton, Toronto and North York and London, all stables near him, lent a hand from time to time. Stirlin was definitely handicapped, having his foot in a cast. No one really did his work for him, but stepped up to walk his horse, to help him wash it down, etc. Worst penalty against Stirlin in stables was, however, due to well-meant help. Some understanding had been arrived at whereby Stirlin's horse was to be looked after at morning stables. He was, but no one thought to clean his stall - result worst stall in the stable that morning, so marks off Stirlin for not seeing that it had been attended to.

Organization

Mounted activities were generally planned for mornings - dismounted events such as judging, bandaging and bridling competitions were held after lunch, and it was arranged to take all participants by bus for a swim in nearby Lake Simcoe in the late afternoon.

Over the years changes in conditions of events and team makeup have been worked into the Canadian Rally, based on experience in former years, and it would seem that these have contributed toward less tension, fairer marking of competitors and smoother operation on the whole. The size of teams has been reduced, to permit more Branches to be accommodated as the number of Branches in Canada has increased; to enable Branches to enter their worthiest representatives without having to fill out their teams with usable children; and to try and have the number from any one Branch fit more readily horse transportation available and thus help reduce cost to Branches on this score. A-Associates compete as individuals - up to 3 are permitted a Branch. B's compete as teams of 2 riders and one helper. C's compete as teams of 3 riders, 2 to count, and one helper. Each Branch is permitted one overall Branch captain. Thus it would be possible for a Branch to be represented in all three classifications and be able to manage with one load of horses in a six horse van.

Various systems of scoring have been tried over the years and the present one, used for some years, seems the most satisfactory. It is based on a penalty - bonus system which works in well with the scoring of the 3 Day Events which form the mounted part of the competition. Penalties in stable management (Horse-mastership) and turnout are meted out in small denominations, it being easier to thus give a true balance to the work of all competitors. The stable work, of equal importance to mounted events, may not on the face of the system appear as important, but in practice it works out well, for even a few points difference on the overall total of everything combined can make a tremendous difference in the team standing - a poor team on the stable part could easily lose 15 or more marks a day which on the final total would put them well out of the running.

In the dismounted events not all team members participate. In the case of A-Associates competing as individuals, they do, of course. But for B's and C's one representative of the team acts and scores for his team. Some of these dismounted events are designated for the team helper. Teams are thus still on an even footing and with a reduced number of participants it is far easier for the judges to mark with perfect fairness.

Warrenton Pony Show

An eye-filling array of some of the East's best show ponies turned out for the Warrenton Pony Show, resulting in its most successful renewal in many years.

Chuck Gore's 10-year-old gray mare, Pretty Penny, from Towson, Md., never was out of the ribbons throughout two hard days of showing to win not only the small division title, but also the grand championship for her owner-rider, with 24 1/2 points.

The show's opening day was a difficult one for everybody concerned - particularly for the owners of gray or white mounts, such as Pretty Penny, Marianna and dozens of the same ilk. The rains fell in amounts varying from drizzles to buckets, turning the Warrenton Horse Show grounds into a sticky mass of mud and the equine department into an almost unrecognizable group of mud bathers. However, all hands stuck it out, despite radio reports that the weather might continue that way all week-end. The ominous forecast luckily gave way in mid-afternoon to a sudden clearing which made a noticeable improvement in the next day's attendance. (Only five game souls paid their way in on the opening day.)

Pretty Penny, always one of the most versatile in Maryland's thriving pony industry, piled up an enviable record at Warrenton. Her most impressive victory of the show was the newly designed "international class," in which entries hack, perform figure 8's individually, jump two fences, and are judged for conformation. Second behind Pretty Penny was an experienced hand at the international routine, despite his tender years - Coed Coch Llwydrew, purchased from the victorious British pony team at Madison Square Garden last fall by Mrs. C. C. Jadwin and Mrs. William Cox. Now a 4-year-old, the gray was ridden brilliantly by Skip Brittle to place second behind Pretty Penny in the international class here.

The large division of the international class was won by Joan Boyce on Foxy, who was earning her first ribbon of the show. The following day Foxy's winnings improved as she also took the large conformation pony class in which hunting attire counted.

The large pony championship went to Little Nibs, a mannerly bay owned by the Junior Equitation School of Vienna, Va. and ridden by Jackie Heller, 15, of Falls Church.

One of the annual features of this, the Nation's oldest pony show, is the Alex Calvert Memorial Trophy presented to the best turned-out mount and rider. Victor was Emily Bryan, who also had the Virginia Horse Shows Association hunter seat equitation.

The major winner in horsemanship was Beverly Harrison, who captured blues in the AHSA medal class and the ASPCA MacLay horsemanship, making her eligible for the championship in the National Horse Show this fall.

Although the breeding division bought out only a handful of entries in Friday's downpour, ringsiders thought they were watching the debut of a rising star in the champion. It was R. L. Robertson's 2-year-old chestnut, Keswick, the son of a Welsh stallion and a small palomino horse mare. Keswick took the breeding division title, then came back in the conformation and jumping classes of the small pony division to earn several important ribbons. He was ridden by Noel Twyman, son of the veteran show ring rider, Delmar Twyman. A.C.

Ed Lovern

Paced by Henry Koch's six goals, the Farmington Hunt Club low-goal polo team pulled away from a Ft. Belvoir squad to win, 10-6, in the first match of the July 29 double-header at Charlottesville's indoor arena.

Farmington's high-goal trio had less success. Opposing an aggressive six-goal Belvoir team, they were awarded a four-goal handicap. But Belvoir was ahead, 13-6, when the game was stopped after chukker three because of rain.

In the opening match of the rainy double-header, Belvoir's Jack Stead opened up quickly to put the Washington club in front. They led, 3-0, at the end of the first period.

The second chukker was decisive. Koch picked up two points before the period was a minute old, but Stead was right behind him to hold the Belvoir lead, 4-2.

Tom Farrell, Farmington's number one, slammed in his first goal with a wide angle shot from about 30 yards, and Koch drove down the middle of the wet field all the way to score the tying mark.

Farmington surged ahead when Stead, Belvoir's defense-man, unintentionally tapped the ball through his own goal. With the ball lying in the mouth of the uprights, he raced in to defend his goal, and the ball glanced off his mallet to put the FHC out in front, 5-4.

Although Belvoir gained a brief one-point lead in period three, the home team collected three goals in the final chukker to take the match, 10-6.

A four-goal handicap did the other FHC team little good against the teamwork and skill of three-goalers Col. Jack Shirley and Col. Jim Spurrier.

From the first play of the match, Farmington was clearly outplayed. Spurrier tallied in less than a minute to make it 4-1. Don Grubbs retaliated for the FHC, but three rapid Belvoir goals narrowed the lead.

Captain Doug Nicoll put Farmington ahead, 6-4, as the chukker closed, but from then on it was the visitors' party. Shirley earned five more points and Spurrier four while they held Charlottesville scoreless.

Rain had been soaking the field since 5 p.m. and by the end of chukker three, about 10:30, the field was too muddy to be safe. Play was stopped and the match awarded to Belvoir.

Rodger Rinehart of Charlottesville refereed the first match and two-goaler John Gulick of Warrenton the second.

Eastern League

Bill Briordy

Pete Bostwick continued to ride in the manner that has placed him among the country's top poloists when he hit five goals to lead Aiken to an 8-4 victory over Blind Brook at Bethpage (L. I.) State Park Sunday afternoon, July 31. It was Aiken's sixth straight Eastern League triumph.

Bostwick, the league's leading scorer, lifted his season total to thirty-four goals. Pete rode with Fred Guest, Vince Rizzo and Dave Ellis against the Blind Brook side of Stewart Feick, Willard Emerson and Randy Crawford.

Aiken clinched the match in the first half, when Bostwick collected all his goals. Rizzo stroked two goals and Ellis one to complete Aiken's total. Ylvisaker made three of Blind Brook's tallies.

Greenwich notched its first success in the Eastern League by checking the Meadow Brook Club four of John Gayer, Charley Leonard, Dave Rizzo and Henry Lewis, 3d, 9-7, at the Blind Brook Club, Purchase, N.Y.

Herb Pennell, riding at No. 3 for the winners, paced the scorers with five goals. Leonard led Meadow Brook with three goals.

Central Intra Circuit Tourney

Jack Cartusciello

The Number 13 seemed to be a lucky one for the Chicago Mercury Polo team in the 1960 Central Intra Circuit Tournament held at Oak Brook on July 13.

Captained by Phil Saporito, the Mercurys scored thirteen goals in their first game and thirteen in the second, to earn a play-off berth with Joy Farms of Milwaukee for the Circuit Championship.

Altogether, five teams were entered in the classic. In addition to the two listed, were Oak Brook-Solocup, Kraml Dairy and Circle F.

In the first round of competition Chicago Mercury eliminated Norman Butler's and Leo Hulseman's Oak Brook-Solocup squad 13-5. At the same time Joy Farms of Milwaukee put together enough goals to eliminate Russell Firestone's Circle F team 9-3.

The Mercurys came on strong again in the second round of play facing Kraml Dairy. Good polo was played on both sides but there was no stopping 5-goaler Jackie Murphy who scored eight times for Chicago Mercury in defeating Kraml 13 to 6.

Tuesday afternoon, July 19, was a perfect day for the Finals between Mercurys and Joy Farms. Again Murphy put the Mercurys in front with three goals in the first chukker and with one each in the second and third. Jack Ryan lent a four goal support in building a lead they never relinquished. Billy Stevens, 3-goaler, tried long and hard for Joy Farms, scoring four times. Pat Connors added two and Dick Hanke and Don McCarroll got one each, to give Milwaukee a total of eight points.

The final score was 11-8, in favor of Chicago Mercurys.

Surprising performances of the Circuit Tournament were turned in by Andy Lynch of Oak Brook-Solocup and Circle F' Robert Coplan.

Lancaster Polo

The Lancaster Polo Club defeated the Winchester, Virginia Club on the Rothsville Field, Sunday, July 24th, 1960. By a score of 10-4. The Winchester, Virginia was given two goals for a handicap, since Lancaster Polo Club is a six goal team.

In Sunday's contest Gil Miller and Ben G. Forney each scored four goals, while Jack Ehmer had two goals for the Lancaster team. Immediately in the first chukker Gil Miller intercepted a Winchester knock-in and relayed the ball to Forney who slammed in the first goal for Lancaster. From then on, playing with well-organized team-work, Forney and Miller scored consecutively, and Lancaster was never headed. Winchester missed several points only by inches, but were usually on the defensive during the last four chukkers.

Joe Claffy scored the other two goals for Winchester with perfect shots. His team mates John Day and John Cousens played a beautiful defensive game. This includes Sam Marshall in the line-up. In chukker five Ehmer brought the ball down field and broke across the goal to slam home his score with an excellent under the neck shot from twenty yards. He again scored in the last chukker making the score 10-4.

Lancaster has won seven games and lost three this season. It now is a member of U. S. Polo Association. Mary F. Pier-sol, Secretary.

threatened for the place, although only a length and a half to the fore of Rhythm Master, which in turn was two and a half lengths in front of John Doe. The latter, making his first start over hurdles, showed a very promising effort.

On Friday, five veteran jumpers, and one four-year-old answered the bugle call for a two mile and a sixteenth test over hurdles, run over a rain soaked course. Oddly enough it was the "youngster" Lord Mike, which went to the front almost at once, and fencing boldly all the way won easily by four lengths. Versus jumped better than most of the old horses, lay in second position the entire trip and was twelve lengths to the fore of *St. Phideas, a confirmed distance mudder. The latter appeared very cautious at his fences, and after a brief effort by Murphy, late in the race, which got nowhere, *St. Phideas ran on his own to be third, ten lengths in front of Highland Light.

The Irish Bullet, run on Saturday, August 6th, drew a field of seven better class horses, including Sanford Stud Farm's *Rafy, a good winner on the flat, but making his debut over hurdles. Off to a good start, the field raced on even terms for the first hurdle, with Be Moderate getting command, a position he held until coming into the stretch the second time. Closing fast John M. Schiff's three-year-old, Our Jeep rounded into the stretch, headed Be Moderate at the second last jump and then went on to a comfortable score. Be Moderate was next, several lengths in front of *Kandy-Sugar and Red Douglas which were noses apart for third and fourth in that order, followed by Navy Fighter, and then *Rafy, which jumped well, but appeared to need the experience. Time for the race, 3:05 2/5 established a record for the mile and three quarters, being 2 full seconds better than Nala's time on the opening day.

Racing Review

Willie Shoemaker rode out C. V. Whitney's homebred Dotted Swiss to a one and one-half length decision over Sunnyside Stable's Resolved. Claiborne Farm's Dunce was third, and Mrs. Q. A. S. McKean's Polylad, fourth. The clockers picked up the winner in 1:50 for the 1 1/8 miles.

Dotted Swiss is a chestnut 4-year-old colt by Counterpoint-Swistar, by Pavot, trained by R. L. Wheeler. He chalked up $30,700 for his owners.

Del Mar

Jockey D. Pierce rode Betty's Fortune to victory in the $10,000 added Junior Miss Stakes at Del Mar on Wed., Aug. 3. It was a six furlongs race for 2-year-old fillies. F. Chavez rode the place horse, Outfield, and the show position was taken by A. Valenzuela riding a filly with the peculiar name *Big Britches.

Betty's Fortune is a bay daughter of Conjure, a Bull Lea horse, out of Fortune Teller, by *Alibhai, bred by Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Johnston. She ran the six furlongs in 1:10 3/5 and made $7,425 with her effort.

San Diego Handicap (Sat., Aug. 6)

Jockey A. Maese rode Elobee Farm's veteran Eddie Schmidt to win the San Diego Handicap, at Del Mar. The race drew fourteen starters, 3 & up, for a run of one and one-sixteenth miles, with $20,000 added. Time for the winner was 1:41 1/5. King's Marshall was the place horse and Honeys Gem finished in the show slot.

Eddie Schmidt is a 7-year-old brown horse, by Count Speed-Paradise, by *Alibhai, bred by Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Burns. He added $13,050 net to his career earnings, which stood at $427,660 at the end of the 1959 racing season.

be with Gallant Runner when he went against "Dogoon and other good stakes horses" at Hawthorne. The sisters, the higher-echelon churchman decided, might pray for the man.

That was not enough.

When he saw the sisters again, Doctor Nierman apologized for his greed.

"To this, the youngest of the sisters was quick to inform me that she had not always been a nun," the story goes on. "She said, 'What did you expect, Doctor? God knows you ran the horse over his head!'"

There's only one thing I can say about this book: read it. So I guess this is a book review after all.

40th Annual
Saratoga Yearling Sales

Saratoga First Night Sales

Fasig-Tipton's yearling sales at Saratoga got off to a booming start on the first night, Monday, August 8. Forty-five yearlings went under the hammer to the tune of $284,000, for an average of $6,311 per head. This was well over the average registered on the first night last year when thirty-nine head averaged $4,341, bringing in $169,300.

The sensational consignment of the first night was that of The Tremare Stud Co., Ltd. of Ireland, represented by the Irish Overseas Bloodstock Agency, Dublin. Their *Chestnut filly, by *Tudor Minstrel-*Musidora, by *Nasrullah was purchased for $30,000, by John W. Hanes and is being shipped to Spendthrift Farm. Mickey Walsh stopped the gavel at $29,000 for the *Bay filly by Persian Gulf-Damask, by Dante. Their *Bay colt by Tantieme-Catchit, by *Nasrullah went to J. H. Bockes of Toledo, Ohio, a new buyer, for $13,500. W. Haggin Perry of Middleburg, Va., acquired Tremare's *Chestnut colt, by Rockefeller-Antarctica, by *Arctic Prince, for $9,500. This consignment of five imports brought $104,500, for an average of $20,900.

If the trend of the first night continues Fasig-Tipton should have quite a sale. Knowledgeable yearling sales appraisers noted that the strength of the first night's market showed up in the prices of youngsters in the lower brackets. Yearlings which in former years did well to elicit bids up to $3,000 were bringing twice that much at the first session.

The complete sales summaries will appear in our August 19th issue. M.R.

EXACT CHANGE AT THE RACES

Somebody from the New York Racing Association must have been riding up and down New Jersey's Garden State Parkway or maybe the New York State Thruway. On both of those excellent roads (on which you have to pay toll to supplement the fifteen ways from breakfast which the state has already taxed you to build roads) there are special toll booths marked "Exact Change". If you have the proper change, you toss it into a basket sort of thing, lights flash, and you are through the gate almost as quickly as if you had gone through a regular gate where the man makes change.

They are trying out exact change lines for pari mutuel wagering at Aqueduct. The idea is presumably that, if the clerk doesn't have to make change, the line will move faster.

That's dandy and it certainly ought to work fine. It seems to, as far as it goes, but one thing that NYRA overlooked was the inherent disinclination of humans to read directions.

Although the exact change windows are clearly marked as such, people pay no attention. And you ought to hear the outbursts of fluent profanity when some dope has stood in a line of 25 to 30 people only to find, when he gets to the window, that he is in the wrong pew, i.e. he has a $5.00 bill with which to bet $2.00 on Number 4.

Five will get you ten the experiment concludes with the answer that people can't read yet with the consequence that exact change lines are dropped. R. J. Clark

JUDGE WYLIE

The Hon. W. E. ("Judge") Wylie, for many years chairman of the executive committee of the Royal Dublin Society, which sponsors the Dublin Horse Show in August, has recently resigned that post. His son, John, who is also official handicapper to the Irish Turf Club, has taken over many of his father's activities.

OAKLEY HUNT'S FOWL FROLIC SAVED BY U. S. CAPTAIN

The Oakley Hunt Supporters Club will always be grateful for the help given by a captain (name unknown) of the U.S.A.A.F. who saved the situation on the occasion of what was described as a "Fowl Frolic." This junketing took the place of what, in previous years, has been the conventional barbecue with an ox roast and so on. Instead, a thousand plump fowls were grilled before a large assembly prior to being devoured.

There was also free beer and cider, some magnificent Stilton cheeses and a spirit bar, to say nothing of a four-piece dance band all the way from Bristol, the whole taking place in Jim Harris's huge farm buildings. Except for the space reserved for dancing, the floors had been littered with freshly cut grass and the mangers were whitewashed and filled with flowers.

Oh, it was a proper to do all round, but it might have been otherwise but for the American captain. For half an hour before proceedings were due to open, one of Jim's tractor drivers took his machine under the power wires with spraying arms raised and phut! - the lights were fused.

Frantic 'phone calls to the appropriate authorities brought nothing better than vague promises, but there happened to be present this captain from a nearby U. S. Air Force Station. Off he went and, within an amazingly short time, was back with a generating unit and a team of electricians. Soon the lights were on again and another link had been forged in Anglo-American relations.

NASHUA'S INJUN

After seeing the horrible extremes to which people can go in naming Thoroughbreds, it is rather refreshing to look at the name of a current two-year-old. His name is Injun and he is a son of Nashua.

Injun is owned by J. J. Brunetti and is trained by Joe Piarulli. It was Joe Piarulli you will recall who trained Vertex, which is the only horse I know of to win hundred granders on successive Saturdays. (Bally Ache won The Preakness and the Jersey Derby on successive weekends, but one was a Saturday and the other was on Memorial Day which was Monday of the following week end.) Anyway, Injun is owned and trained by the same combination as owned and trained Vertex except that Joe's father was one of the owners of the older horse and he is no longer with us.

Dr. and Mrs. John B. Youmans, owners and breeders, who won the 1950 and '51 renewals of the Iroquois Steeplechase with their homebred, Storm Hour, having luncheon in the Omnibus box at Monmouth Park on United Hunts day.

The way Injun got his name was that Mr. Brunetti's son figured that Nashua was an Indian name and his offspring could logically be named Injun. (Speaking of naming things for people, this has nothing to do with the subject, but isn't it a good thing that we were named America instead of Vespucia as long as we were being named for Americus Vesputius.)

I think perhaps more of the naming of Thoroughbreds ought to be left to the younger generation. They couldn't do any worse than some of their elders.

AMBROSE CLARK

F. Ambrose Clark of Cooperstown, New York, Westbury, Long Island and Aiken, South Carolina, was 80 years old on Monday, August 1st. One of the most accomplished horsemen in the country, he excelled as a foxhunter, as a coaching man, as a steeplechase rider, and as an owner of flat and steeplechase horses. Undoubtedly his most famous victory was the Liverpool Grand National in 1933 which he won with Kellsboro Jack. Mr. Clark has a notable collection of sporting paintings which have been reproduced and described in a sumptuous catalogue, recently privately printed and edited by E. J. Rousuck.

HARRY STEVENS

H. M. Stevens, Inc., is the name of the catering firm which operates the restaurants at most of the race tracks in the East and South. Frank Stevens, father of the brothers who now operate the business, started serving meals in 1902 at Saratoga. From there the business has spread to become one of the largest in the world.

"BIRD WATCHERS"

The Ak-Sar-Ben race track, Omaha, Nebraska, is located on the east side of the Little Papio Creek. Across the creek to the west, on the hillside above the track level, is the Catholic School of Saint Mary where live the Sisters of Mercy. There is nothing to obscure the view of the track from the Sisters, and the loud speaker easily carries the short distance.

Last Christmas, J. J. (Jake) Isaacson, general manager of Ak-Sar-Ben, sent a box of field glasses to the Sisters. The glasses were inscribed: "To the Bird Watchers at Saint Mary's - And May All Your Birds Win."

LANNY LeBRUN

The pony show world was shocked and saddened to learn of the death of 12-year-old Lanny LeBrun, son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. LeBrun. He was on his way to ride Billy Boyce's Smokey Joe, in the Deep Run Junior Show near Richmond, Va., when he became suddenly ill. He died a day later in a Richmond hospital. Lanny had ridden Smokey Joe successfully over the past two years to many championships.

Lanny started his riding career on his own pony, Little Red, which his parents bought for him as a foal. Several years later Lanny rode him to the small pony championship of the Association of Maryland Horse Shows.

His riding and good sportsmanship were unexcelled and won him many admirers and friends throughout the East. Lanny showed great promise of becoming one of the outstanding riders of the future. The pony world will remember him with affection.

LONG TENURE

Holly Hughes, who trains the horses of Stephen (Laddie) Sanford, has been with that family for 3 generations and over 60 years. He went to work for Mr. Sanford's grandfather, General Stephen Sanford, under Barry Littlefield, and then worked for his father, John Sanford, taking over as trainer in 1914-1915.

BLACKSMITH BOMB

Strange things very often happen in the Genesee Valley and the story of the blacksmith and the bullet is no exception. A locally famous equine podiatrist, Frank Harding, combines several types of tobacco for his daily smokes. He also keeps small shot around, and in some mysterious way, the two became involved with each other. Unfortunately Frank, after a busy morning of shoeing, was unaware of this combination when he filled his pipe for a peaceful smoke. The inevitable happened; the aftermath startled horses and amazed attendants. A completely baffled blacksmith was left standing with a pipe stem in his mouth.

WATERFORD GLASS

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Edwards of Audley Farm, Berryville, Va., are currently in Europe and will visit Ireland's famous Waterford glass plant to commission trophies for the fall meeting at Waterford Park, of which Mr. Edwards is president. The late A. J. Doyle, who built the track, gave it its name.

ADDITION

Mr. and Mrs. E. Gray became the proud parents of a baby girl on August 7. Mrs. Gray is a member of the composition department of The Chronicle and Horse magazine. The new arrival weighed seven pounds and is the first offspring in the family.

TO VIRGINIA

A three-man Virginia syndicate purchased the Belmont Stakes winner *Celtic Ash from Green Dunes Farm. He is expected to do stud duties in Virginia. The syndicate is composed of Dr. Frank O'Keefe, owner of Pine Brook Farms, W.E. Schlusemeyer, hunting and showing enthusiast, and on whose place the Virginia Gold Cup is run, and Edward L. Stephenson, owner of Kilmaurs Farm. The farms of the three members of the syndicate are located in the Warrenton area.

*Celtic Ash is a chestnut 3-year-old son of Sicambre-Ash Plant, by Nepenthe, bred by Lord Harrington in England. M.R.
